Understand the stupidity that lies between my heart and my brain

Nothing ever happens
All the doing is yet yappin'

All is mapped
in my brain

Isn't it too old
Hasn't it been told

I can see your faith behind the pen

The man, he don't trust you
He think you're trying to bust up all his dreams

All alone in the room.

(spoken for a one step at a time)

All dream and gloom to whom?

To him? ~~But~~ The plume within,
That needs let out like what is let in.
